66% of Cleveland adults are functionally illiterate, unable to do things most people take for granted: navigate prescription information, pay bills, or help their children with homework.

As a sponsor, you ensure Seeds of Literacy can help the community beat that statistic.

Unleash Your Inner Genius
 Do you have a knack for fun facts and obscure details about the city? Do you remember math, science, and social studies as though high school was just yesterday?

Showcase your smarts and support Seeds in a social setting. Three chances to win prizes and bragging rights for winners of each round.
